

PupTalk Dog Coaching

An Affordable New Alternative to Private Training

What it is:

- 1) A new service to help pet parents who feel private training is out of the budget.
- 2) Someone to hear your frustrations.
- 3) Someone to help you stay on track.
- 4) Your brainstorming partner.
- 5) Your personal cheerleader.
- 6) A support group (coming soon)
- 7) A podcast (coming Fall 2024!)

How it works:

- 1) This service is not just for new clients. It's perfect to help former clients stay on track or discuss techniques and progress.
- 2) Sessions are 25-30 minutes long and conducted via phone or video chat.
- 3) Can be combined with private training for more difficult behavioral challenges. (Alternate between private training and coaching to decrease costs.)
- 4) Discussions include various topics, such as multi-pet household management, schedule creation, resource assistance, pet parent empowerment, pet advocacy, senior life challenges, progress status, behavior troubleshooting, and more!
